Greenville, North Carolina

"Our Greenville, Yours If You Come"

Greenville, the county seat of Pitt County, established in 1786 and named for General Nathaniel Greene, the hero of the Battle of Guilford Courthouse, is located in North Carolina's Coastal Plain Section, approximately midway between Raleigh, the state capital, and the Atlantic Coast. From this original one hundred acres set aside by Richard Evans as a town site, Greenville, a progressive, educational, trading, and marketing center, now embraces an area of 7.2 square miles, and has a population of over 23,000, an increase of 36.7% since 1950.

When Greenville was established, transportation facilities were limited to the Tar River and uncertain roads and trails. The first ferry over Tar River was opened in 1787, and the first bridge was built in 1820. Steamboat service from the coast 100 miles inland was established in 1830. The Greenville-Wilson Plank Road was chartered in 1850; the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad was completed to Greenville in 1889; and the Norfolk Southern Railway through Greenville to Raleigh, in 1907. Today Greenville, in addition to its two railroads, is served by a network of paved highways in all directions, and is the location of the County-City modern F.A.A., Class 4 Airport, and a municipal water terminal, providing it with facilities for all types of transportation.

The citizens, early in its history, were interested in education, and in 1814 incorporated Greenville Academy which was followed by the organization of Greenville Female Academy in 1830. These institutions were the forerunners of the City's outstanding accredited school system.

East Carolina College, with substantial financial assistance from the City and County, was established by the State in Greenville in 1907. This College, with a plant value of over $20,000,000.00, offering bachelor's and master's degrees in teacher training and liberal arts, and with an on-campus enrollment of over 5,200 students, makes Greenville the educational center of the state's coastal area and has a favorable effect on the cultural life of the community and area.

The fact that Greenville has the facilities to care for the educational needs of its youth from kindergarten to a master's degree from college, is an important factor in the city's growth.

Although the Indians were producing tobacco in this area when it was settled, the white planters had to market their crops at distant points until 1891, when the Greenville Tobacco Warehouse was established, and operated by Gus Evans and O. L. Joyner. From this warehouse of 7,200 square feet, selling 225,000 pounds its first season, the Greenville Market now has 19 warehouses totaling approximately 2,500,000 square feet of floor space, and selling in 1960, 61,617,216 pounds for $36,815,873.00. The Greenville Tobacco Market is one of the largest bright leaf flue-cured tobacco markets in the nation, and is one of two having five sets of buyers.

Greenville is also an outstanding market for all farm crops produced in the area. As a distribution center, in 1960 it ranked twelfth among the leading cities in the state in dollar volume of wholesale sales. Its retail volume in 1960 totaled $34,210,000.

While in a predominantly agricultural area, Greenville is expanding industrially, having 63 manufacturing and industrial plants with principal products including: boats, carpet yarns, chemicals, dry cell batteries, bottled soft drinks, bakery and dairy products, fertilizers, hosiery, livestock feed, leaf tobacco, lumber, millwork and meat products.

To assure existing industry and that coming into the area, a supply of trained labor, the County is establishing an Industrial Education Center in the immediate vicinity of Greenville. This center will provide training for the unskilled as well as those trained who desire to up-grade their skills.

Its banking facilities consist of 3 leading banking firms, 2 of which have 5 branch offices in Greenville. There are 2 strong Savings and Loan Associations, and a Production Credit Association serving farmers exclusively.

The State Baptist Convention was organized in Greenville in 1830. Churches in Greenville now total 27 for white and 20 for colored, representing practically all major denominations. Its citizens maintain a high percentage of affiliation.

Recreation facilities are comparable to those available in any community in the area. In addition to a supervised recreation program sponsored by the city, its schools and East Carolina College field excellent teams of baseball, football, and basketball. Additional facilities will include a new 16,000 seat stadium for East Carolina College, to be financed by a $250,000.00 fund subscribed in the area, with completion scheduled for October 1962.

Quail, duck, geese, bear, and squirrel hunting, fresh and salt water fishing, athletic games on municipal and college facilities, 5 motion picture theatres, the country club's challenging 18-hole golf course, and a modern 24-lane bowling center, offer a variety of recreation and amusement to meet most desires.

The entertainment and cultural programs at East Carolina College, the Greenville Art Gallery, the Pitt County Executives Club, the municipal and school libraries, and other cultural organizations including the activities of a Little Theatre Group, music clubs and a symphony orchestra composed of musicians from the area and the college music department, provide an enviable cultural atmosphere.

The Pitt County Memorial Hospital, with its 200 patient beds and a modern nurses home on a 29-acre location, provides facilities for the care of the sick unexcelled in this area. This $3,000,000 hospital, modern in design and equipment, the Pitt County Mental Health Clinic, and the city's 33 physicians, surgeons and specialists, designate Greenville as a prominent medical center.

Greenville is not only a highly regarded commercial city, but its cultural and educational advantages, together with its "folksy" citizens, good government, well managed municipal utilities, moderate tax rates, mild climate, and other necessary requisites, make it a highly regarded community in which to live, rear a family, and work. Its steady and substantial growth presents opportunities for new businesses and industries, all of which are cordially welcomed by a hospitable, friendly citizenship.

PITT COUNTY

Named in honor of William Pitt, Earl of Chatham, and formed November 25, 1760, Pitt County is one of the foremost agricultural counties in the nation. In addition to being the largest producer of flue-cured cigarette tobacco in the state, its fertile fields also produce abundant crops of corn, peanuts, cotton, small grains, Irish and sweet potatoes. Livestock, dairying, poultry and poultry products add materially to its farm income.

Pitt County, with a population of 69,942 in 1960, is fifteenth in area and sixth in population among the State's thirty-nine coastal counties. In value of farm products sold, in 1960 Pitt County ranked first in North Carolina, and 74th in the nation's two hundred leading agricultural counties. Its agricultural development is promoted and supervised by an efficient staff of trained agricultural technicians working in co-operation with State and Federal Agencies. Its governmental affairs are administered in an efficient manner by a businessman board of five commissioners.

History relates that North Carolina's first Masonic Lodge was established at Crown Point in Pitt County. Iron ore used during the Revolutionary War was mined in Chicod and Pacolus Townships. A cotton planter, patented in 1867 by Captain Bryant Smith of Falkland, and later improved by J. C. Cox, revolutionized cotton planting in the south.

The county school system is composed of all schools, except the Greenville district, and consists of 12 schools for white and 13 for Negro, with a total 1961-1962 term enrollment of 14,047. Modern buildings and equipment staffed by trained teachers give the county school system a very high rank in the State.

In addition to the 200 bed Modern Pitt County Memorial Hospital, the County maintains an efficient Welfare Department, and with Greenville participating, a Health Department and Mental Health Clinic located in Greenville and staffed by trained technicians. To supplement these facilities, there are three private medical clinics located in Greenville and others in several towns in the county.

This county and its communities also have appreciable industry, with principal products including: Agricultural Chemicals; lumber and lumber products, which predominate, tobacco curers, pickles, hosiery, clothing, boat trailers, machine work, livestock feed, flakeboard, and metallic cables, and in Greenville, carpet yarns, fertilizer, soft drinks, bakery, dairy and meat products, monuments, dry cell batteries, leaf tobacco and boats.

To promote industrial and economic growth the County maintains the Pitt County Development Commission, of which Dr. C. Sylvester Green is executive director, with offices in Greenville.

Pitt County is truly an agricultural empire, and Greenville, the commercial, educational and medical center, is a modern city of friendly progressive people, possessing the requisites for the realization of a full and well-rounded life.

This Publication is The Product of a Member of —thus assuring you the ultimate service that skill and care can produce in the way of City Directories or other reference media and providing protection against fraudulent advertising schemes which operate under the name of Directories.

The following "Standards of Practice," adopted at the inception of the Association of North American Directory Publishers in 1898, and strictly adhered to over the years, is your guarantee of satisfactory Directory Service.

The publisher of a Directory should dedicate his best efforts to the cause of business uplift and social service, and to this end pledges himself:

1. To consider first, the interest of the user of the book.
2. To subscribe to and work for truth, honesty and accuracy in all departments.
3. To avoid confusing duplication of listings, endeavoring to classify every concern under the one heading that best describes it, and to treat additional listings as advertising, to be charged for at regular rates.
4. To increase public knowledge of what Directories contain; to study public needs and make Directories to supply them; to revise and standardize methods and classifications, so that what is wanted may be most easily found, and the Directory be made to serve its fullest use as a business and social reference book and directory of buyer and seller.
5. To decline any advertisement which has a tendency to mislead or which does not conform to business integrity.
6. To solicit subscriptions and advertising solely upon the merits of the publications.
7. To avoid misrepresentation by statement or inference regarding circulation, placing the test of reference publicity upon its accessibility to seekers, rather than on the number of copies sold.
8. To co-operate with approved organizations and individuals engaged in creative advertising work.
9. To avoid unfair competition.
10. To determine what is the highest and largest function of Directories in public service, and then to strive in every legitimate way to promote that function.

$100 Reward will be paid by the Association of North American Directory Publishers for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in the publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or fake directories.
